

All Together

FOUR COUNCILMEN chosen at Tuesday's election by the greatest majorities Sierra Madre ever gave candidates for any public office will face serious responsibilities from the very outset. They have a right to expect that a community that had never spoken so emphatically before will stand solidly behind them—give them every possible support and the utmost of co-operation in solving the problems ahead and charting the city's course through a pretty difficult situation.

The election is over. There should be no attempt at obstruction, no quibbling and fault finding. If in the early days of their administration they should make minor mistakes they should not be made much of by exaggeration nor their motives be questioned. All are men of fine character and their deep interest in the city's welfare is beyond dispute.

Some of the duties immediately before them and to which they have committed themselves will be most unpleasant to perform, but they have firmly resolved that they shall be done to the best of their ability in the public interest and undoubtedly they will be done just that way.

Four major problems are immediately ahead of the new officials. First to demand attention is the formation of a financial policy to meet the day when the city's funds are low or exhausted.

The difficult matter of helping residents of the Canyon Park area iron out their Matton Act troubles will require patience on part of those who feel they should have relief from bondholders.

The people should stand behind the council as a solid unit in fighting the Pasadena water suit which threatens the very existence of the city.

There must be utmost of tolerance and understanding when the matter of framing and adopting a zoning ordinance is undertaken for it will not be humanly possible to fashion a zoning law to the complete satisfaction of all elements.

For any citizen to stand in the way of a solution of these and other problems is to stand in his own light.

It is hardly necessary to say that there should be no ill feeling—no animosities, among the people as a result of the election. This community is far too enlightened for that, no matter how deeply interested it was in the outcome of Tuesday's balloting. By all the rules Sierra Madre should be a friendly, neighborly and helpful community. It is the duty of everyone to help make it so.

We have elected a really good city council—let's all get behind it and help it serve us.

Deadline On Taxes Five Days Off

Added Importance Attaches With 10 Payment Plan About To Pass Out

With only five days remaining until the April 20 deadline, tax payments took a spurt this past week, according to H. L. Byram, county tax collector. While tax collections in terms of percentage are slightly behind those of the same date last year, in terms of actual dollars the collections are up, the figure being $75,748,925.45 to date as compared with $69,342,045.12 last April 9.

At the close of business April 11, collections for the nine month period dating from the beginning of the fiscal year July 1, 1937 totaled $76,481,766.36. In terms of percentage this is 65.59 per cent of the total year's tax levy of $116,587,895.64.

Last year at the same time the collections totaled $69,567,555.57, or 66.34 per cent of the 1936-37 levy of $104,856,495.93.

The April 20 deadline this year will be marked by the certainty that the ten-payment option which has been used by many taxpayers for the payment of delinquent taxes, will not be in effect when the next Legislature meets, due to the fact that the special session which closed recently refused to extend the ten-payment plan beyond August 20, 1938, at which time it will expire.

F. O. Nichols Home Is Purchased By Pasadena Family

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony C. Luz and family of Pasadena have purchased the former F. O. Nichols home on West Olive avenue. The folks have succumbed to the allure of Sierra Madre already and can hardly wait to take possession of the property. They are tearing out weeds with a vengeance and refurbishing the attractive dwelling and garden.

Announce Program For Easter Sunrise Service Here

The Salvation Army is sponsoring an Easter Sunrise service at the little cross on Vista Circle Drive, Canyon Park, beginning at 5:15 a.m. The Salvation Army Band under the direction of Adjutant and Mrs. H. D. Goldthwaite will hail the rising of the sun and start the beautiful service.

"Christ the Lord is Risen Today," the opening hymn, will be sung by Lt. Colonel White, followed by a prayer by Commissioner W. J. B. Turner, who will sing "Up From the Grave He Arose." A male quartette will sing "The Rugged Cross," and Colonel White will sing "All Hail the Power of Jesus." Mrs. H. D. Goldthwaite will give the Benediction that closes the service.

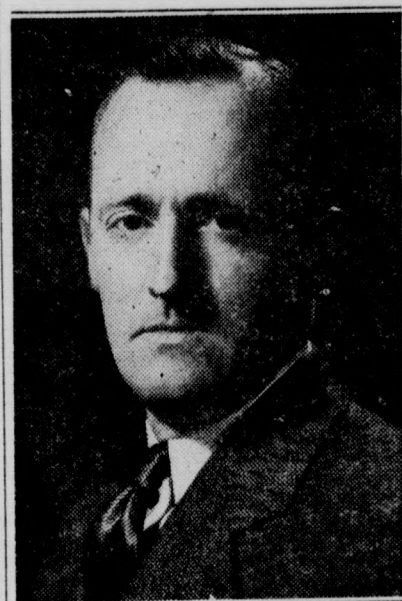

Comparison Of U.S. And Other Schools At P.T.A. Meeting

Mrs. John L. Woehler announces another worthwhile program for the Parent-Teachers' Association for next Thursday, April 21, at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. Dorothy Baruch, of Broadoaks, will be the speaker, discussing her recent trip to Europe, and displaying films to illustrate her talk. She will compare work in the schools of Europe with that being done in the United States. A good-sized audience is requested as a mark of respect to Dr. Baruch.

Dog Takes Master To Court With His Second Offense

For the second time within a few months the dog of Alan K. Thompson, 289 San Gabriel Court, has gotten his master into the doghouse—or police court. According to police records the animal broke quarantine twice and the second time was picked up and his master brought into court Monday and given a $25 fine with $20 suspended by Judge T. W. Neale, providing there is no further violation of the quarantine.

Lewis and other officers and directors of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank were re-elected at the annual stockholders meeting in the bank building Tuesday afternoon, the stockholders expressing much satisfaction over the bank's flourishing condition and plans of the officers to further its usefulness to the community.

In addition to Mr. Lewis the officers and directors who will continue in service are Arnold Praeger, Preston Schwartz, Mrs. Cecily A. Allen, R. C. Lewis, W. S. Hull, F. H. Hartman and C. W. Forman.

Golf Course Will Open April 23

First Nine Holes At Arcadia County Recreation Center Ready For Play

Beginning Sunday, April 24, nine holes of the new 18 hole golf course at Santa Anita Recreation Center, in Arcadia, will be opened for public play on Saturdays and Sundays.

Although the opening ceremonies are scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday morning the course will not be open for general use until the following day. At 11:45 o'clock an exhibition round of golf by a foursome of professionals and crack amateurs begins, and at 1:30 p.m. county supervisors and officials who witnessed the opening ceremonies will tee off.

There is a newspaper men's preview to be held next Friday from 1 to 6 p.m. with the manager playing host to the press.

The club house and nine holes of the course will not be completed until July and during the construction period the nine holes to be opened a week hence will be available for play only on Saturday and Sunday of each week.

Eastern Boys Would Enjoy Reprimand For This Offense

Eastern boys to whom oranges are more or less a luxury and stone fights are regular occurrences, would probably envy four Sierra Madre youths who engaged in an orange battle on the orange orchard of the old Yerxa ranch Sunday before neighbors called police. The boys were taken to the police station—none injured, of course—and given a severe reprimand by Chief McMillan and sent home after promises of what would happen in the event of future offenses—on private property, at least.

Resignation Of Myers Is Tendered

Leaves City's Employ Monday When Three Defeated Councilmen Retire

Al Myers has tendered his resignation as city business manager. Dated April 13 and now in the hands of City Clerk Waverly E. Pratt, it will be presented to the city council Monday night so that upon its acceptance his employment by the city will terminate with the retirement from the council that evening of Mayor H. Clay Reavis, Lester K. Layton and Warren O. Preston, who were defeated at Tuesday's election. The letter says:

"I herewith hand you my resignation as City Business Manager, Street and Water Superintendent and member of the City Planning Commission, to take effect April 18th, 1938.

"In severing my official connection with your honorable body, I wish to say briefly, but with deep sincerity, that I truly value the loyal support and cooperation I have always received from the Council in my efforts to give Sierra Madre the best possible government and to bring into this community projects of permanent worth.

"We have worked together without dissension and I am confident that this period of your incumbency will, in the future be recognized as the time when the most important progress was made in the upbuilding of the city.

"Five of us have been long together—our accomplishments for our city are your lasting reward, and I am profoundly grateful to you for the confidence and loyalty you have shown me through these nine years.

Expect 700 At Kids Easter Party Here Tomorrow

Easter may mean flowers and tapers to some folks but it means Easter eggs and bunnies and fun to Sierra Madre youngsters looking forward to the annual Easter party to be staged by the volunteer firemen at City Park, Saturday afternoon.

Given solely for them, seven hundred youngsters are expected to attend the gigantic party and participate in the jolly things planned, including the egg hunt, egg rolling and other games. Prizes are to be awarded to the winning youngsters, and an Easter basket with eggs and bunny will be given each child.

Equipment Of Firemen Is Given O'K

State Inspector Hands City's Department High Rating After Tests

Sierra Madre's fire equipment is in first-class shape. That very satisfactory condition was announced Wednesday by Inspector John Colton, of the State Fire Underwriters Board who just inspected the apparatus and put it through pumping and mechanical tests.

The truck, manned by Police Officer Art Johnson, Vern Udell and Joe Swanson of the Fire Department, was taken to the city water basins and subjected to a severe pumping test. The pumps were run at capacity for 35 minutes straight without any indication of strain.

The inspector told the crew that the equipment here compared favorably with the latest models of fire equipment in use throughout the state.

Wind Bows Canyon Trees Over; City's Lights Go Out

Electric service was interrupted for 38 minutes Tuesday night during the brief storm that swept over the city. Trees blown over by the wind in the Sierra Madre Canyon caused the delay in service, William Burr, manager of the local Edison Company office, stated.

Considerable wind attended the 27 of an inch rainfall that fell in the 24-hour period, and brought the season's total to 33.31, slightly over the 32.22 of last season at the same time.

Rowdies Rounded Up On Malicious Mischief Charge

Six Pasadena youths rounded up by Sierra Madre police Sunday will appear in Judge T. W. Neale's court today to answer charges of malicious mischief for wantonly damaging city recreation building in Bailey Canyon, where it is charged they gave vent to all manner of rowdy conduct.

LANDSLIDE GIVES FOUR CITIZENS COUNCILMEN COMPLETE CONTROL

Smashing Victory At Polls Sweeps Miller, Schwartz, Carter And Schiltz Into Supervision Of City's Affairs—New Officials To Be Inducted Monday Are Expected To Formally Assume Responsibilities Tuesday Evening

TUESDAY'S municipal election amounted to nothing short of a landslide that swept Thomas Miller, Jr., Paul N. Carter, Thomas M. Schwartz and William J. Schiltz, candidates of the Citizens Committee, into complete control of the city's affairs.

Monday night the vote will be canvassed and they will be inducted into office, whereupon the defeated councilmen, Mayor Reavis, Lester K. Layton and Warren O. Preston, will retire after, in all probability, accepting the resignation of City Business Manager Al S. Myers who wishes to retire with them.

Unless, after their induction into office, they shall sign a call for a special meeting of the body, there would be no official meeting of the four new members and John Froehlich, the sole survivor, until the fourth Wednesday of the month, or April 27.

But the charter law permits the calling of such a special meeting three hours after the new councilmen are sworn in. And it is thought extremely probable that a special meeting will be held Tuesday evening when the new members will formally enter upon their duties and assume control of the city's affairs. In this event a record crowd is expected in and about the city hall to start the new regime on its way with the community's good wishes.

Between now and the time of their first meeting the new members will caucus to map out the first steps towards carrying out their campaign pledges and arrange a schedule to inaugurate their policies, probably agreeing upon one of their number as the next mayor, to be honored at the first meeting so as to get the machinery of government under way as quickly as possible.

The campaign pledge to abolish the office of city business manager will probably be the first act of the new council. After that it is likely to take action looking to reduction in general operating expenses. But it is reported as likely that some co-ordinating authority will be designated to carry out the council's orders and keep the various departments working harmoniously.

Confident of their success, the new councilmen were themselves surprised at the completeness of their victory by the wide margin of about three and a half to one. Thomas Miller, Jr., highest man on their slate, received 1097 votes as against 396 for Mayor Reavis, highest man among their opponents. W. J. Schiltz, running for the short or two year term, who received the lowest vote of the victors, had 1024 as against his independent opponent, Lawrence B. Brain, who polled 288 votes.

For the most part voters made their decisions as between the two slates of candidates. The number who chose to favor a candidate on the ticket they were opposing generally, was comparatively small. While Mayor Reavis was high among the defeated candidates for the long term and Warren O. Preston was low, for instance, Reavis received 369 and Preston 305 votes. Layton, in between, polled 331. Miller, high man among the winners for long terms, polled 1097 and Carter, who ran third, 1052 votes. Schwartz, in between, had 1065.

Drizzling rain that set in late during the afternoon and developed into brisk showers before the polls closed, probably had something to do with keeping down the size of the vote, for only a trifle over 61 per cent of the registered voters took the trouble to cast their ballots, 919 remaining away from the polls. The total registration was 2388 and the total vote was 1469.

Here is how the people of Sierra Madre voted in the four election districts:

DISTRICT	A	B	C	D	Totals
FOUR YEAR TERM—
Layton	37	87	123	84	331
Miller	173	280	309	335	1097
Preston	30	94	107	74	305
Reavis	37	113	132	87	369
Carter	176	271	288	317	1052
Schwartz	165	281	295	324	1065
TWO YEAR TERM—
Brain	29	80	100	79	288
Schiltz	164	271	281	308	1024

Special Services To Mark Feast Of The Passover Here

Jews in Sierra Madre begin the celebration of the Feast of the Passover, commemorating Israel's deliverance from Egyptian bondage, tonight at 5:30 p.m.

The observance will last until the evening of April 23 with matzo or unleavened bread served at the Seder table in homes and at synagogues.

Special services will be held at Temple Beth Israel in North Lima street Saturday and Sunday mornings from 9 to 11 a.m. with Cantor Carthy, of Los Angeles, officiating.

Home Building Will Be Advocated At Forum Meeting

Slum clearance and housing problems as related to Los Angeles county will be discussed by Robert B. Parker at next Tuesday night's meeting of the Forum at the City Hall. Mr. Parker will show lantern slides illustrating conditions as they now exist in the county.

Mrs. Grace B. Caukin, president of the 48th Assembly District Democratic Club has charge of the program, according to Perley Poore Sheehan, Forum president, which will be a combination meeting of the Forum and the Democratic Club for this district.

With the government embarking upon a gigantic campaign for better housing conditions the subject to be discussed is a timely one and will reveal the favorable conditions under which low cost homes may be constructed, Mrs. Caukin believes.

Mrs. Margaret L. Clark, member of the Los Angeles Board of Education, recently appointed to the County Housing Authority and well-known in Sierra Madre through her appearances on the Sunday night supper programs at the Wistaria Vine, has been asked to speak here on the housing program at a later date.

Resurrection Is Theme At Churches

Good Friday And Easter Will Be Devoutly Observed In Sierra Madre

Sierra Madre will observe Good Friday and Easter Sunday devoutly—and beautifully—with lavish spring decorations that the great outdoors of the Southland afford.

The churches begin observance of Good Friday with the Tre Ore services today at the public chapel of the Passionist Monastery from 12 to 3, and in the Church of the Ascension from 2 to 3 p.m. by a service of Meditations from the Seven Last Words.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the Church of the Ascension will present a special Good Friday cantata. This is one of the older cantatas and is divided into three parts, Penitence, Pardon and Peace. The music is by the celebrated composer Maunder and the words by Bettison, Vicar of Leystone. Solo parts in the Cantata will be sung by Katherine Wissler Snow, Clarence Noshier, Thomas Meader and Jack Buchan.

St. Rita's Catholic Church will conduct the blessing of the Fire, Candle and Water at 7:30 a.m. with mass at 8:30 a.m., Saturday morning. Easter masses begin on Sunday with the sunrise mass at 6:30 a.m., when the young people's choir sings a special program of Easter music. At 8:30 a low mass will be conducted, with the special Easter high mass coming at 11 a.m. The children's choir will sing the mass.

The Congregational Church's observance of Easter began last night with a communion service in memory of the last supper at which 24 new members were received.

Sunday the Congregationalists will have a special Easter program of music at 11 a.m. with Rev. A. O. Pritchard preaching a sermon on the Easter theme. In the evening the Young People

Ashes Of Dr. Masury In Arlington

Now Repose In National Cemetery With Those Of Country's Heroes

"Home is the sailor, home from the sea," runs the line in Robert Louis Stevenson's beautiful poem, "Requiem" and so it may serve as a fitting requiem for Dr.
Arthur Masury, who passed away at his long time home here in Sierra Madre last January following a long illness. His ashes have been interred in the National cemetery at Arlington, Virginia, with full honors and will rest forever amongst remains of the nation's heroes.

Dr. Masury's ashes were taken to Arlington by his son, Arthur, who resides in Virginia, and were met by a platoon of marines, a platoon of sailors, and eight officers, a navy chaplain and a navy bugler, and the officers in charge of Arlington.

Arthur Masury describes the funeral thus: "There was six inches of snow on the ground... every tree covered with ice. As our car arrived the band played "Nearer My God To Thee." The standard service burial rites were read after his service record in full had been given with dates, ships, discharges, etc. Then the Navy platoon fired three salutes.
The Navy bugler blew taps.
He rests on the side of a hill from where all Washington can be seen."

Aid Asked To Carry On Children's YMCA Camps

Sierra Madre's committee of the Santa Anita District of the YMCA has launched an appeal for funds to assist in maintaining the character-building activities carried on by the organization.
Committee members J. S. Billheimer, Edwin W. Ward, Jr.,
Clarence Huntzinger and Rudolph R. Hartman sent out a letter to Sierra Madreans pointing out the work carried on for boys and girls at the Y Friendly Indians and Jenk's Lake Y Camp, where youngster may go for ten weeks each summer for healthful supervised recreation.

Sierra Madre has never met its full share of the district, committee members state, although summer a large number of boys and girls from this city take advantage of the splendid opportunities offered at the camps. In order that this good work may be maintained the committee has appealed to the townspeople to return the contribution envelopes enclosed with the letters with something inside no matter how small.

TRUCK CRASHES INTO LIQUOR STORE

Everybody has heard about the old tale of the bull in a china shop but a truck in a liquor store seems to be a modern version of it.

While engaged in dusting off the champagne bottles between customers, "Happy," of Happy's Liquor Store was electrified to see a big delivery truck parked out front (getting thirsty maybe) suddenly begin to roll toward him. There was no driver in sight. An unnamed hero, amid a shower of beer bottles, leaped to the driver's cab and pulled on the brake, stopping the truck halfway through the entrance.
"Happy" unfroze and began to mop up the beer when the abashed owner appeared upon the scene, pulled out his purse and paid the damages on the spot, backed his truck out and departed in haste.

Your Father knoweth what things ye have need of.—Matt 6.8

Be content to be a child and let the Father proportion out daily to thee what light, what power, what exercises, what straits, what fears, what troubles He sees fit for thee.—I. Pennington.

DID YOU NOTICE?

Did you notice that the first act of Dictator Hitler after seizing Austria was to muzzle the newspapers as those of Germany have been muzzled. It is the way of the dictators. To keep a people in subjection they must be kept in ignorance. Look out for the trend in your own country. Censorship of the press is the first step towards absolutism—the most necessary step to continue its existence.

The world's rewards may be often misplaced but God's rewards never are.

APPEAL FOR DECENCY

Enjoy but don't destroy the wild flowers now at their peak in many sections of Southern California.

Every motorist visiting the floral displays is urged, through appeals coming from conservation groups, garden clubs, and chambers of commerce to spare the blossoms.

The principal reason flowers should not be plucked and thrown into cars where they wither and die, is that it depletes the show at that location the following year. While apparently little harm is done when one person picks a few blooms, multiplying by the hundreds of visitors to each spectacular field during a day soon ruins nature's presentation. To civic groups make the appeals to leave the native flower enjoy, unmarred for others also.

Kern and most other counties of the Southland have an ordinance prohibiting the wanton picking of flowers and other native growths. Motorists are asked also to play fair with landowners who suffer losses each year because cars are driven off roads into fields, destroying cattle feed, and by breaking of fences and gates. State law also prohibits cutting, destroying or removing flowers and other native growths from any public land or private land without written consent of the owner, or knowingly selling or transporting for sale such flora out or removed from highway rights of way or other public land without written consent. Penalties are provided.

STILL HOLDS GOOD

Just 234 years ago this month, America witnessed the publication of its first permanent newspaper, the Boston "News Letter."

The birth of that fledgling on April 26, 1704, is memorable in the history of American journalism. But it is also memorable for something else. It contained the first advertisements America had seen, and these advertisements held revolutionary implications.

They contained the seeds of an increasingly higher living standard. They appealed to the popular demand. They foretold the rise of mass production of America's future 128 million consumers, and the rise of large-scale industry — steel, with 775,000 workers and $877 million annual payroll, automobiles with their 400,000 workers and $400 million payroll, textiles with its million workers, and payroll of more than one and one-half million workers, and payroll of more than a billion dollars annually. Because their first advertisements, believe it or not, told the world what they have to offer, retail stores have played a particularly big part in enriching the productivity of our state and nation. If merchants hide their light under a bushel, as the saying goes, the consumer can't be expected to see the light, or the bargains. Far-sighted merchants knew that when they placed ads in the Boston "News Letter" 234 years ago. And their principle remains constant, "It pays to advertise."

It is comparatively simple and easy for a shrewd man to fool enough of the people to put over his scheme. Some of the biggest frauds we ever heard of were heroes and geniuses in the eyes of a lot of people.

AN ARGUMENT

What are man's best years? If you could live your life at one age, what age would you choose? Would you anchor at 20, would you slow down to a halt at 40, or would you be satisfied to follow a normal life span?

Those questions, always good for a verbal battle, recently started a word-fracas in the British press when Winston Churchill, former Minister of State, recorded in the "Sunday Chronicle."

"Twenty to twenty-five are the best years of a man's life, the earth is his and the fullness thereof!"

To which George Bernard Shaw, not to be kept out of any argument, replied: "If you want to be a prize-fighter, you don't want to be over thirty. If you want to be an old dotard, well — I'm over eighty!"

The best answer of all came from Dame Marie Tempest, the actress: "Each age should be a golden age, if you keep your brain clear, and if you have the capacity for absorbing those things which will give a happy life."

True it is that every age has something to offer. Childhood has its frolic, youth its romance, maturity its mastery of the world, and age its contentment. For some, contentment is the highest goal of life. For them, the age which seems to offer least, may in reality turn out to be the best.

What are man's best years? All of them — if he learns to live each age as it comes along, and to forget the joys of the past in the understanding and appreciation of the present.

Court Hears All Legitimate Cases

Is the Supreme Court able to keep up with its docket?

As set down in our Constitution and as specified by Congress only certain types of cases may be brought before the Supreme Court. It considers those that are submitted, rejects those that are not warranted and hears the balance.

The Solicitor General of the United States, reporting upon the work of the Supreme Court for the twelve months ending June 30, 1936, states: "It is not surprising to find that the high percentage of denials and dismissals of petitions . . . reached in the 1936 term . . . It is quite erroneous to regard the court as constituted for the correction of error in every case. . . . Many petitions (for a hearing before the Supreme Court) . . . are filed which in the light of settled practice must be regarded as entirely without merit.

"Every case argued or submitted at the term was disposed of before adjournment. . . . The work of the court is current and cases are heard as soon after records have been

THE "HOLDING COMPANY"

Let the country's budding authors take heart! Though their literary offshoots may now be green, crude and discouraging, the leavening blows of time and experience may bring them mastery just as it did Elizabeth Setters of Moberly, Missouri. The first of this 40-year old housewife won a $10,000 first prize for her novel about a small town man. This was the first manuscript she had ever submitted to a publisher. The miracle is not that she succeeded in writing what apparently is a good novel, but that she managed to write one at all. She has four children, one at 17, and a husband and house to look after, not to mention the baking and the washing, which she does herself. Nevertheless, she found time to scribble parts of her story on scratch pads, parts of it on the typewriter. If there's any secret to her triumph, she probably expressed it when she said, "You'll write somehow — if you have it in you!"

Among the latest patents applied for by inventors are for a chemically treated package of charcoal and shredded paper, which it is claimed will bring the fire in your furnace to full flame in five minutes. . . . chromium steel "wall paper" for rooms of unbreakable eye-glasses made of transparent plastic material. . . . antiseptic paint to keep walls sterile, made with ethyl which gives off vapor deadly to germs. . . . automatic baseball thrower which will put any kind of a curve on a ball. . . . bed mounted on pulleys so that it can be raised to ceiling during daytime. . . . a coal dust carburetor which its inventor claims will run an automobile 35 miles on a gallon of dust.

A filling station occupies the site in downtown Washington where the great painter, Whistler, lived when he has a government clerk. He allegedly was fired for "drawing pictures" on government time, but today his painting of "Mother" adorns American postage stamps.

We can't say we envy the prospects of the 13th Dionne who has just arrived in the world up at Callender, Ontario. As the youngest brother of the famous quintuplets, he came into the world under a severe handicap. We can hear people saying to the little lad, "So you're a brother of the quintuplets! How does it feel to have such famous little sisters? You must study hard. When you grow up you must be a credit to them, you know." And if the youngest and littlest Dionne today cries "I'm not a brother, who knows? Maybe his present eyes warm him that he'll just be the little brother of the quintuplets."

A picture of vastly improved conditions in America 25 years hence was drawn by G. Edward Pendray, noted science writer, in an address in New York the other night. Among the predictions made by Mr. Pendray were "soil-less farms," a conquering of bacteria and clothing of fire-proof "artificial fabrics made from cellulose or spun glass. He said that by 1963 the average man's library might consist of small spools of film, one roll, the size of a watch, representing a complete volume, which would be read with the aid of a projecting machine smaller than a typewriter.

A French scientist now says carrots are a cure for bad temper. For those who want to keep their wits about them during the lull of a lazy spring afternoon, spinach is advised for claims it has power as a mental stimulant; while green beans are recommended for an evening meal to relieve fatigue at the end of the day.

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

EASTER just ahead. Wonderful. That Latin word, Resurrection, meaning, "I shall rise again." Meaning, you will. And everyone else who dies, perhaps. At least, everyone you've ever loved and lost — will rise again. The most marvelous story ever told. You may imagine how they must have loved that Son of Mary. Then that bit recounted by St. Luke — of the sad disciples on the way to Emmaus. Jesus dead? Sure! They'd seen him die. Now they didn't even know what had been done with his body. Then Jesus Himself drew near, and went with them. . . . And their eyes were opened, and they knew Him; and He vanished out of their sight."

H'E'D even talked with them. And they'd been so dilled by their human certainty of His death that they'd almost missed the miracle. Remember? St. Luke goes on: "And they said to one another, did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way?" Well, here's what we think. If St. Luke, imaginative, but a doctor, highly educated, and one of the grandest journalists the world has ever known — should come back among us now, his heart would burn with another sort of heat. Two thousand Easters. And still thinking of Death as Death. Scientists — modern doctors — paying no more attention to that casualty by the scientific St. Luke than if it were some trifle of a fairy-tale.

Before we go on. Let's go back. To another fairy-tale. Call it that. One Spring, just about Easter, years ago; away back and deep, deep, in the Big Cypress Swamp. Down in Florida, that is. At Doctor Billy's camp. A wild Seminole. Hid away. As an otter. Frank Brown, our friend — he'd been raised in the swamp and was still more Seminole than white — he slowly, Doctor Billy spoke translated, softly — voice keeping time to the flickering cypress-log. How his daughter. When she was about to be married. Big sleep — pray long time, no eat. He pray — to go where she go — my daughter — and bring her back.

This was told us at night. It all comes back to us: sweet smell of burning cypress — like the incense they used to use in Notre Dame; that deaf silence, that blind dark, of the world that shut us in; old Doctor Billy himself like one for whom death had no secrets, a long silence. Billy said no more. Frank Brown completed the story — after a fashion — while Billy smiled at us weirdly and read our heart. The bridegroom had fallen into a deathlike trance, sure enough; from which he'd risen as one who walks in his sleep. And he'd gone into the woods — none following; whence he returned two days later, bringing the girl with him — a very different manner. She'd been buried above the ground. She was well. But maybe just a little strange. Like her young man. They never told anyone what had happened, or how. And presently they disappeared.

WHAT we started out to say, though, was that we believe — we've always believed — there'll come an Easter when they will no longer be ignored as fairy-tales — those stories told by St. Luke and others. Maybe this is that very Easter now. Who knows what new world-shaking revelation may be taking form in a brain like Einstein's or Eddington's or even that of some obscure genius here in our own Sierra Madre — some new Minkowski, with a space-time warped for his theory of relativity? For what is this old Rider of the Pale Horse? What else, perhaps, than merely a stray shot of light out of a higher world — from some other dimension than the ordinary three of our usual world!

EVER read "An Experiment With Time," by J. W. Dunne? Great book. If you're interested in this sort of thing. How, often in our dreams, we escape from our usual world that so hampers us while we are "awake," while we are "alive," and how we emerge into a well, yes, a better world. Because it's freer. A world that has that extra dimension; and where time and space, as we conceive them here, do no longer hold us bound. So that in time, for example, past, present, future, these all are one; and in space, there's no such thing as far and near. As we've so often said before.

HARD to understand? So's radio. But easy to use. Use it without understanding. Just, you might say, by Faith. As Jesus told us to. Anyway, we've got the Teacher with us. You know what He said: "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

The minute a veteran pedestrian gets behind the wheel of an automobile he sheds all respect for the hooves just as a wage-earner loses sympathy with his old mates when he turns capitalist.

Case and Comment

By Charles B. Showalter

(Editor's Note: The opinions expressed herein are those of Mr. Showalter and do not necessarily reflect the attitude or opinions of THE NEWS.)

NEXT Sunday, April 17, vast throngs of people will assemble at Hollywood Bowl, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, and Mt. Rubidoux to greet the sunrise with the world's supreme religious festival, Easter services. At a time when all humanity appears to be torn with strife, it is most fitting that all should pause to observe the resurrection of the Prince of Peace. And so throughout the state and nation, and throughout all the world, wherever civilized men abide, there will be some tribute to Him, who, though born meek and lowly, is the dominant character of all the earth.

The tragedy of our time, is that men and women everywhere fail to grasp that essential truth. The profoundest and bluest message ever delivered to the children of men may be found in the few simple words of the Angel at the tomb. "He is not here. He is risen."

Bethlehem speaks, "Joy to the world." His life and ministry, succor and relief to the living, but the resurrection confirms our fondest hopes. No one wants to die. Extinction is the most terrible dread of all. The innumerable recesses of his heart, cherishes the hope or longing that he may some way, somehow, escape death and the grave.

But in the resurrection we have a victory over death. For if Christ be risen, so may we also with Him raise from the dead. Not only so, but death may not even touch us if we abide in Him. For in His resurrected life and now and not in some indefinite and undetermined future. If, then, we live with Him, what men call death can be likened to passing through a door from one room to the next.

St. Paul tells us in I Corinthians 15-19, that if Christ be not risen, and "if in this life only we have hope, we are miserable." There is no other hope.

No events in history are more fully attested than the life and death and resurrection of Jesus. Further proof is uncalled for. By His sacrifice on Calvary He proved His mission, by His resurrection, His power and authority, and by His ministry He proved His wisdom and His right to rule in the hearts of men. And He

There are still many extremists and theorists who insist that California should follow in the footsteps of Nebraska and give the single-house legislative plan a trial, and it is possible that such a proposal will eventually be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection. Under the circumstances, current discussions of the results of the first legislative session held in the Unicameral plan in that state is of unusual interest to California voters.

A disillusioned supporter of the Nebraska experiment, Clarence Reckmeyer of Fremont, Neb., makes a candid appraisal of the plan in actual operation in an article written for the New Republic.

"I voted for the Unicameral Legislature and was enthusiastic in support of it," reports Mr. Reckmeyer, "but I can not say that it is much of an improvement. . . . It has passed more laws — many of them objectionable — than any previous Legislature and made the biggest appropriations ever made. . . . The chief argument advanced in favor of the plan in Nebraska was that it would result in election of higher type men to the Legislature and would improve legislative efficiency. On this phase of the experiment, the Baltimore Evening Sun reports as follows: "One of the lesser masterpieces of Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, father of the TVA, is the on-chamber Legislature, of his home state. He whopped it up for many years and on November 6, 1934, the voters of the state finally approved. The first session of the was further attested by the voice of God, Himself, on the mount of transfiguration, "This is my Son. Hear Him!" And do we hear Him? I wonder. And if we hear His words, do we take heed? I fear not. If as men and as nations we should hear His voice, what a difference it would make!

Can anyone doubt the wisdom of applying the morals and ethics of Jesus in our social relations, our economics, and in government?

There is in the brief sermon on the mount enough of social science, economics, political sagacity, and spiritual power for the healing of all the nations. We can not help but wonder why we as a people do not compel our leaders and governments to make use of these dynamic powers that assuredly can lift all men everywhere out of degradation and despair. Men have failed. Men are failing now. In all history, men have never failed so ignominiously and so distressingly as at this present time. The combined wisdom of all the wise of earth cannot be compared to the divine wisdom freely at our disposal. Why not try His way?

Not a nation on the globe can, at the moment, produce a leadership capable of promoting the happiness and general welfare of its people. The blind lead the blind, with both going into the ditch. Europe is already in the ditch and will soon fall into the bottomless pit. Traditional jurisprudence is dead. Traditional morality is dead. Contracts are worthless, treaties are disregarded, and agreements are disregarded. And over all is the haunting fear of the return of the universal carnage of war.

The impact of these explosives upon the very foundations of civilization is shaking the world and driving its people to the madness of uncertainty and the terror of instability. Sooner or later the flying splinters will puncture the equally explosive human emotions, and then great hordes of men, in their panic, will take to bayoneting each other and children. America is little better off. Inexorable forces are in motion which must be stopped by a wave of enlightenment and inspiration, or these dark days will grow darker.

Can man alone avert the cataclysm? We think not. Intellectual liberty, spiritual freedom, economic security — these cannot survive the black plague of despotism and oppression carried across the world by the rats of demagoguery, totalitarianism, authoritarianism, planned economy, regimentation and centralization. Power-crazed, ambitious approval-seekers cannot save us. A risen Lord is the only reasonable hope of a bewildered and distracted world.

BALANCE WHEEL NEEDED MORE NOW THAN AT ANY TIME IN STATE'S HISTORY

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

(Executive Secretary, Agri-Council of California)

new legislature was held last year. "It has 43 members and they are elected on a non-partisan plan, with no party designations on the ballot. The idea was that the voters would pass over the low political hacks who pack ordinary two-chamber Legislature and elect decent men. But the same old politicians got themselves elected and they have been carrying on in the traditional manner. Whenever one of these gaudy dreams of Utopia is realized, it turns out to put another big gang of job holders at the public trough."

Reviewing the comment of observers who have studied the operation of the Nebraska One-house Legislature, there appears to be general agreement that the plan has proven a dismal failure. And California voters have cause to be thankful that this state did not hurriedly follow Nebraska's lead without counting the cost and without investigating the real claims of its sponsors.

Even if the plan had succeeded in Nebraska, it would still have been entirely unacceptable in California, for this state the large metropolitan areas would have complete control of a one-chamber Legislature, with rural districts placed in the unhappy position of being supplicants for city favors. In Nebraska, the problem between urban and rural areas does not exist, as the state has no large cities.

Rural California, observing the desperate maneuvers of radical labor leaders to achieve complete domination of the cities and "rule or ruin" can be grateful that in the State Legislature there are two houses with one chosen from rural districts. More than at any other time in its history, California needs a balance wheel at Sacramento.

Wistaria Players Title Adopted By Fine Arts Guild

"The Wistaria Players" will be the name of the Junior Fine Arts hereafter, it was announced Tuesday by Miss Jackie Roos, publicity chairman.

Members voted the change of name at the last meeting and recommended its immediate adoption as the former title was thought too lengthy for general use. The players will meet as heretofore for dramatic instruction by Mrs. Mildred Jones, coach.

The young folks are now working very hard on a series of plays and "shorts" to be presented early in May, the officers report and expect the coming performance to be one of their very best.

Hospitality Praised By Delegates

City Takes Kindly Interest In Convention Of Young Japanese

Thanking Sierra Madre for the hospitality shown them over the week-end, the third annual convention of the Christian Nippinse young people was adjourned as an almost capacity audience filled the school auditorium Sunday night.

Many of the homes of this community were opened to the delegates and for the first time every home that was offered to the housing committee, headed by Helen Nomura, were used. The outstanding delegation was Riverside C. E., thirty members of which responded to roll call at Sunday's closing session. West Los Angeles C. E.ers were close on the heels with nearly as many delegates.

Saturday the convention arranged a special tour through the Wistaria Gardens and the colorful display of flowers were thoroughly enjoyed. S.R.O. was posted Sunday afternoon, as radio feature, "The Haven of Rest," was presented.

Ever increasing in popularity, since the first convention attended by less than a hundred, to three hundred registrants this year, the delegates scattered back to the various sections of southern California with the expressed hope of getting together in even larger numbers next spring.

FOUR STATES TO PICNIC

New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada and Utah will hold their annual picnics all day Saturday, April 23, in Sycamore Grove Park. Each state will have a separate section and will open county headquarters.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of The Boys

WHAT could have been a very serious fire last Saturday was extinguished by the early arrival of the fire trucks. "Shorty" Steinberger and Frank Lovell made a photo finish at the trucks after the siren sounded. Since Frank has located at the corner of Baldwin and Sierra Madre Blvd., it is necessary that he make more steps in order to beat "Shorty" to the station. I had a ticket on "Shorty" to win, but when they ran a dead heat, I failed to collect.

The blaze was caused by an accumulation of rubbish piled against a garage. Piles of rubbish such as this usually contain combustibles which will catch fire from the sun. When it is absolutely necessary to keep rubbish for any length of time, it should be piled away from buildings.

At our regular meeting Friday night Harry Lange suggested that the heavy blue firemen's shirts be discarded for a light weight material. What a disturbance this caused. It looked for a few minutes as tho' blue uniforms and shiny buttons would be torn to shreds. So even was the vote that the losers threatened to bring the subject up again at the next meeting.

We have now had fire number one after a long interval. As fires usually run in threes, we can soon expect another, unless a great deal of precaution be exercised by the villagers. We have always warned against the accumulation of rubbish, and now since the fire of last Saturday, our advice should be more convincing. Let's avoid that third fire bug-a-boo and keep the fire's out.

What A Girl Sees Ramblin' 'Round

By Marjorie Hesse

WE are the victim of that dread disease—coryza . . . common cold to you . . . and we are suffering . . . our disposition would shame a buzz-saw . . . Our nose is a flaming floral display and our temper resembles our fellow-native—the Missouri mule—we think we are going to die and we are afraid we won't . . .

Ever the Easter lilies in Rikeman's lovely window won't make us feel any better, today. The only thing that cheers us up is the memory of the fun we had at the Japan-American Society dinner Saturday night, when we wore a gorgeous kimono and pretended we were a Nipponese lady . . . We even learned a few Japanese words . . . and had them carefully rehearsed . . . and promptly forgot them when the time came to say our little say . . .

F. D. R. Moore made an excellent chairman and kept the party enlivened by his wit . . . and Chobun Okamoto . . . (and Mrs. Okamoto looking as spring-like as any daffodil in a yellow marquisette gown) . . . made the hit speech of the evening . . . with his clever drolleries . . . William Rustin Malone, 80 year old president of the Postal Union Life Insurance Co., who with Mrs. Malone were guests of the Okamotos, . . . was surprisingly alert and vital for a man of his age . . . The place was filled with dignitaries who are friends of Japan and are interested in Japanese culture and the promotion of friendship . . . Pretty girls abounded . . . Japanese girls in chic American gowns . . . and lots of Americans that were easy to look at . . . Miss Hiroko Kuriyama, teacher of flower-arrangement . . . dressed in a beautiful black kimono (and are those kimonos beautiful, ah me! ah me! we wish we had about a dozen) . . . with a touch of white at the neck . . . very pretty-like . . . the effect . . . Mr. Okamoto told us the Japanese have made their ladies wear kimonos so they would stay at home . . . and you may believe us that one behaves very properly and demurely in a kimono . . . it has that effect upon one . . . but my oh my! those obis . . . ours seemed like it weighed a ton on our weak western backs after about an hour . . . We were sure that padded silk form that slipped into our obi . . . had iron in it before the evening was out . . . We stood up and sat down . . . and still that obi clung to us . . . and how good it seemed to shed it . . . but we learned that all our suffering was unwarranted and the result of ignorance . . . that Japanese ladies can lean back against their chair . . . We had been sitting stiffly away from ours for hours . . . Our dear friend Woodson Jones donated the following poem to us one day when we were in a deep dark mood and we thought it worth passing along for the psychological effect—if nothing else . . .

DON'T QUIT
When things get wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you are trudging seems all up hill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest, if you must, but don't you quit.
Success is a failure turned inside-out;
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit—
It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit.
If you want to meet the town just going to a fire . . . we learned that Saturday morning when the boys answered an alarm. A big crowd was there in just no time . . . We also discovered that the Dane's have a nice little cactus garden back of their sweet-shop.

Many Movie Stars To Be Portrayed At Masquerade

In quest of the unusual, a birthday party in the form of a movie-star masquerade has been devised by June and Jack Dougherty tonight in honor of the latter's birthday. The "location" is the family home, 145 San Gabriel Court, the "plot" calls for meriment galore, and the action, dancing. The dramatic personae is composed of about thirty boys and girls of Jack's and June's class at the Woodrow Wilson Jr. Clark Gable, Joan Crawford, Shirley Temple, Loretta Young, and scores of other film favorites will be portrayed by the gay young "characters."

A tempting repast will "feature" the finale of the evening's festivities, making the occasion one to be long remembered in the annals of "moviedom."

PHYSICIAN'S CASE STOLEN; TWO BOYS SUSPECTED

Dr. L. M. Evans reported to police the loss of a medical case from his car parked in front of his residence, 340 North Baldwin avenue, sometime Monday. Two boys are under suspicion by the police.

NEWLYWEDS ARE FETED ON THEIR RETURN

The newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Butler (Althea Croxon) of Belle Vue Court, were complimented on Sunday evening by Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Evans, hosts of the court, with a unique get-acquainted buffet-supper. The guests were all young couples of similar age and tastes, who dwell in the court, with the exception of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Scalzo of North Baldwin avenue.

Conversation, interspersed with good wishes for the newcomers, followed the delicious collation.

ENTERTAIN FORTY GUESTS AT GARDEN PARTY

Giving the second of a series of Wistaria-garden parties, Miss Cecil Sterling Price assisted by her mother, Mrs. Josie Price, and grandmother, Mrs. Belle Vickers of East Grand View avenue, received a group of 40 friends Sunday afternoon for tea. Miss Price, in a richly-embroidered mandarin-coat, introduced her guest to all of the beauties of the family garden. From underneath the arbor of pastel blossoms, pet canaries in a Chinese-red cage, overhung with crimson roses, a facetious parrot, who said "good bye" to everyone instead of "hello," weeping willows, and orange trees could be glimpsed. Pussy-willows and pink and white cherokees lent charm to the interior.

Assisting the hostesses were Mary and Aileen Pulling at the tea-table. Among those present were Dean Arnold G. H. Bode and Mrs. Bode and their daughters, Catherine and Margaret; Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Heagerty; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meader; Miss Marlon Vanner; Mrs. Rigney; Miss Daisy Hawks and Mr. Fred Vanner, besides Dr. and Mrs. Hill of Long Beach and many other Long Beach friends, many of whom Dean Bode knew when he was stationed there, along with the hostesses.

PARTY HONORS NEWLYWEDS AND WOULD TRAVELER

Mrs. Laura M. Cline, 429 Sturtevant drive, entertained Tuesday night with a dinner party celebrating the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Griswold and the homecoming on Saturday of Miss Clara Sykes from a five months' trip to the Hawaiian Islands, Australia and New Zealand.

WINTER VISITORS GIVE FAREWELL PARTY

Miss Lucy Kimball and her mother, Mrs. H. Kimball of Virginia and Sierra Madre, were hostesses at their last luncheon-party in town, to Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Heagerty on Sunday at Wistaria Vine Gardens. The visitors, who have entered so vividly into local society, took a long lingering look at the San Gabriel Valley spread beneath the overhanging town and expressed a fervent wish to return next season. They departed on Tuesday for home, going by way of San Antonio.

OLD FRIENDS SURPRISE J. S. BILLHEIMER

A surprise birthday-party, equaling any festive occasion in a long succession of similar parties, was given John S. Billheimer of 37 Suffolk Place on Sunday by Mrs. Billheimer. The honoree, totally unaware of Mrs. Billheimer's designs, is richer now for having in his possession several new ties, that he is going to wear, besides a score of attractive presents from guests who came up from Eagle Rock, Pasadena, Long Beach, Los Angeles, and from Pomona, numbering 23 in all.

A specially-decorated trio of cakes was the piece de resistance in a smartly-appointed birthday dinner. Spring colors prevailed with matching accessories.

LEVINSON'S TO ENTERTAIN AT PASSEOVER DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Levinson of 187 North Sunnyside avenue are dinner-hosts tonight at a beautifully-arranged Passover dinner, which 22 guests, mostly relatives from Los Angeles, have been invited.

Pink sweet peas, set off by accenting accessories, will provide the note of color. The guests have made this dinner sort of an annual pilgrimage, looking forward to it with extreme pleasure each year.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED AT PRE-EASTER PARTY

The gardens of the Converse Twycross home at South Baldwin avenue were background for a delightful pre-Easter luncheon on Saturday.

Vacations made it possible for the cortege of close friends to gather again. Spring-like effects were attained. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Lang of Downey; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Van de Meer and two children of Bellflower; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Black of Gardena, and Miss Gladys Black of the Children's Home in Sierra Madre, and the Twycross family.

PRE-EASTER DANCE PROVES OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

The pre-Easter dance of Sierra Madre's Eastern Star chapter at the Masonic Temple was both a financial and a social success.

Tucking a nice, fat sum into the club's coffers and at the same time staging a dance that is socially enjoyable is quite a feat and one on which they may well congratulate themselves, the sponsoring officers feel. Misses Mary Frances Brain and Muriel Tarr headed the committee in charge of arrangements.

The committee received congratulations for its clever spring garden decorations that turned the Temple into a bower of greenery with arbors and trellises further carrying out the motif.

FWLER-LALONE NUPTIALS ARE SOLEMNIZED

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fowler of 618 Palm Drive, Arcadia, announce the marriage of their daughter Joyce, to Robert LaLone, son of Fred LaLone of 36 West Highland avenue, at a prettily-appointed wedding solemnized Friday evening, April 8 by Rev. Mary T. Mills of the Church of Truth, Pasadena, in the living-room of the Fowler home.

The low, broad room of the early California home adapted itself admirably to the scene. The bride, dressed in a smart white sports suit with luggage-tan accessories and wearing a corsage, on the arm of her father, descended steps that led to the altar created of pink and white gladioli, palms and greenery, which concealed the great fire-place.

The attendants were Miss Phyllis Fowler, sister of the bride, and Edward LaLone, brother of the groom. Preceding the ceremony and following it, strains of music filled the air, rendered by Mrs. Mat Barlow and Mrs. Marguerite Domschke. The wedding-supper was attended by 23 guests. The young couple, who are both well-known in Sierra Madre, having been educated in the local and Pasadena schools, will reside here after a short honeymoon.

SOCIAL NOTES

Harking back to a happy day eight years ago when their wedding was solemnized in the Francis M. Eakman home at 184 Mari-posa avenue, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Pike of Long Beach were feted on their anniversary, Friday evening by their friends the Eakman's with a smartly-arranged dinner.

Mrs. Edward Roach of 213 North Hermosa avenue entertained her gym class at her house on Tuesday night. These girls are "counting their calories," don't think they are not! A repast of health foods was served. Those present were Mrs. Orceella Stinman, Mrs. Ann Collins, Mrs. Lella Embree, and Mrs. Dolly Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lieben, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Wood and the Misses Hazel and Jean Woodward attended the initial concert appearance of Miss Helen Jepson given on Monday night at the Civic Auditorium.

Miss Nina Belle Neale of North Mt. Trail avenue spent her Easter vacation as houseguest of Captain and Mrs. Charles Tozar at Coronado, and attended, among other gay doings, a dance given by Miss Anne Tozar at the Officers' Club, in honor of her houseguest, inviting the brilliant younger set of Coronado.

A beautifully-appointed dinner-party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Semke of 73 West Grand View avenue on Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dietz, and son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Dietz, Jr., of Hollywood. Guests were taken up to Wistaria Vine Gardens afterwards, later visiting the gorgeous Azalea show at the Coolidge Gardens in Altadena.

Mrs. Adria Johnson, Mrs. E. E. Bacon, and Mrs. Carrie Halsey, formerly of Sierra Madre, and lately returned from a round-the-world tour, were entertained by Mrs. A. C. Dillingham of Arcadia on Monday at her home.

One of the enjoyable get-togethers of last week was the luncheon hosted by Mrs. A. H. Embree at her home in North Auburn avenue honoring presidents and chairmen of 1933-'34 of the American Legion Auxiliaries of the 18th district. After a short business meeting, the guests visited the Wistaria Vine Gardens.

CELESTA THAYER HAS AN EASTER-BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Wilbur F. Thayer Jr., of 435 N. Grove street, gave an Easter party, April 11, in honor of the eighth birthday of her daughter, Celesta. A treasure hunt was an important feature of the afternoon's entertainment, together with tcharious games. Chickens and bunnies decorated the refreshment table and each guest went home with an Easter favor. Seven little girls, including the hostess, hope they will have as good a time next year.

UNCLE WIGGLY IS GUEST AT CHILDREN'S PARTY

To making children happy, has been the ambition of Uncle Wiggly, best-of-honor at Barbara Collins' birthday party given on Saturday by her mother, Mrs. Ann Collins of 77 E. Montecito avenue on the occasion of Barbara's tenth birthday. This 70-odd-year entertainer has hundreds of children's parties chalked up to his credit, including Barbara's festival of games and dainties that appeal most strongly to the hearts of children. Little guests included Adair Roach, Al-dine Williams, Patsy O'Neill, Virginia Embree and Dale Spinks.

Old Officers Are Re-Elected By War Veterans

Officers of the current year were re-elected at the annual election meeting of the Sierra Madre post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Monday night.

Commander William Schwartz and Harry Holland, second vice-commander, and Ben Stinman, third vice-commander, will continue in their positions. The installation ceremony is scheduled for Monday, April 25.

WOMAN 86 ENJOYS HER CALIFORNIA TOUR

Mrs. E. J. Knight of Binghamton and Schenectady, N.Y., her daughter Mrs. Lena Loomis and other relatives visited Mrs. Emily Shotts of 470 East Montecito avenue last week to awaken many happy memories.

Mrs. Knight, 86 years old, keenly alive to every sight and sound, enjoys every moment spent in California. She and her party motored down to San Juan Capistrano to see the swallows come in; they have gone up to Fresno to see friends; and have left nothing unnoticed in and around Los Angeles. They viewed the Wistaria Vine in Sierra Madre during their five days with Mrs. Shotts—and "wrote home" about it.

GREETINGS to you strangers," chanted Miss Bathie Stuart in Maori and English to the Sierra Madre clubwomen on Wednesday at their regular meeting, while the map and pictures of picturesque New Zealand were spread upon the screen behind her.

Miss Stuart in native garb graphically delineated the customs of the Maori people of which she is thoroughly familiar. Their music, mode of living and arts were described in one of the most outstanding programs that has been given in the club for a long time. The appreciative members who came deserved all of the beauty and prodigious knowledge, forest-dotted, mountain-crested scenery that they received.

Miss Stuart sketched the historical background of New Zealand from the time of man's arrival in 1642, on through to the coming of Capt. James Cook in 1769, down to the modern era. A group of Maori dances and songs was depicted by the speaker to the intense delight of the audience. Thanks to the government of New Zealand, the arts and crafts of the people are being perpetuated in the schools after a realization of their decay a few years ago.

To live in a country where "there are two cows and thirty sheep to every person, where one can go from the heights where snow-capped mountains look directly down upon blooming forests of fuchsia-trees of 140 feet height, to Wellington, in which splendid universities, theatres and modern homes abound," is satisfactory and peace itself. Miss Stuart said. The deplorable fact is that so few people heard this well balanced and dramatic program. It must be discouraging to a professional speaker to assemble his or her material, which means, necessarily, going into research work; to take the trouble to come twenty miles to a strange club and put forth the nervous energy sufficient to interest an audience with only about forty people in it! If these speakers appeared in a metropolitan center surfeited with entertainment, cars would be bowling over the Kings highway to hear them. Isn't it funny?

Fine Tribute Paid Mrs. Forman

Many Weep As Last Rites Are Said For Beloved Sierra Madre Woman

Great masses of flowers banded about the room expressed the love of countless friends for Mrs. Esther Forman at her last rites, Monday afternoon in Grant's Chapel during which many wept.

Rev. W. H. Hannaford, who received Mrs. Forman into the Congregational Church, many years ago, officiated at the services, assisted by Rev. A. O. Pritchard. Burial followed at Sierra Madre Cemetery.

"Come Unto Me When Shadows Darkly Gather," a favorite hymn of Mrs. Forman's, was sung during the services by Mrs. H. Randolph Wood, who also sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

Pallbearers were James N. Hawks, Woodson F. Jones, F. H. Hartman, R. J. Lord, E. D. Burbank and George I. Poulter.

Sketching the background of Mrs. Forman's life, Rev. Mr. Hannaford told of her love of flowers, and how she had started so many home gardens with slips and cuttings from her own that when a group of garden-loving women organized a club several years ago they named it the "Esther Forman Garden Club" in her honor.

Born at Greenpoint, Long Island, New York, April 5, 1846, Mrs. Forman celebrated her 92nd birthday the day before her death. In November, 1871 she married William S. Forman, a young attorney, at Nashville, Ill., where she lived the greater part of her life. Following the death of her husband in 1908, Mrs. Forman devoted herself to her family, never remarrying. She came to California for the health of a daughter in 1911, residing in Upland for a year before moving to Sierra Madre, where she had resided continuously for the past 26 years.

Presentation Of A Sermon-Drama Wins Praise

"The Forgotten Man," a one-act sermon drama, was presented Sunday night at the Congregational Church before a large audience that thrilled to the beauty of its message.

The play, directed by Mrs. Waverly Pratt, was based on the story of a wife, played by Velma Pickett, who was homeless and none wanted to take her in until she ran away to find The Man, a tramp, who personified the Christ-figure, capably acted by Gene Keables. The scene where The Man found the child sleeping was exceptionally well done and poignant in its implications of gentleness and love.

How the child's return united the young minister, played by Paul Guignet, the girl he loved, the church organist, portrayed by Cynthia Hull, and shamed the thoughtlessness of Peter, the janitor, who was Randolph Twycross, and the church treasurer and his wife, played by Claude Allen and Carol Coumbe, was worked out with fine shades of feeling.

A musical program on an electrical organ was presented by Mrs. A. Clement.

Theft Of Gift From Santa Reported By 10-Year Old Boy

An envious boy or a candidate for "the meanest person in the world" is the thief who took the shiny, red wagon that Santa Claus brought to 10-year old Ernest Alamillo, 40 North Auburn avenue, from a spot near the dam in the Sierra Madre Canyon. Ernest, who trudged to the police station to report his loss, described his wagon as being of metal, painted red, with white wings, and swanky disc wheels and rubber tires.

Girls Of Local Camp Fire Units Rate High In Exams

The work of Mrs. Edward Roach, guardian of the younger Camp Fire Girls has evidently not been in vain. She and her girls passed the tests of the first rank before the Committee of Awards at headquarters in Pasadena, Saturday. Nine girls who shared honors with Mrs. Roach are Margaret Young, Mareta Preston, Joan Hinkley, Marion Carleton, Virginia Liscomb, Adair Roach, Sylvia Shippey, Marilyn Albright and Myrel Weese.

DANCE CLASS TAKES ON A SOCIAL AIR

Judging from the interest displayed by local socialites the Bob B. Dancing Club, which is now being organized to meet each Tuesday night at the Woman's clubhouse, will be more of a social organization than a dancing class.

As this was the original plan of the director, Bob Ward, everything is going swimmingly. For Mr. Ward, who has taught thousands of people to dance, says that "anybody who can walk can learn to dance," and that he believes it can be more fun if the party-spirit prevails.

NOT A RABIES CASE HERE IN 15 YEARS, PET OWNERS PROTEST; BUT QUARANTINE HOLDS

Pointing out that Sierra Madre hasn't had anything even remotely resembling a case of rabies in more than 15 years, owners of dogs and other pets affected by the rather drastic quarantine regulations now being rigidly enforced throughout Los Angeles county are irked and protesting vigorously.

Local police have been appealed to by the county health authorities, however, to assist the health and humane officers in apprehending pet owners who violate the regulations, and citizens have been asked for their cooperation.

"Such a tremendous increase in rabies, the worst in many years, naturally forced a quarantine by the State in order to protect both pets and children," Health Director Pomeroy declared.

He issued the following statement urging public support of the quarantine:

"We have the interest of pets at heart as well as that of children. The present epidemic, mostly among stray dogs is dangerous to both pets and children, therefore, we ask the public's cooperation. We cannot stamp out rabies and stray dogs without this quarantine, and cooperation from the public. Therefore, citizens can help by observing the following suggestions:

1—The new law requires dogs and cats to be kept on owners' premises either in an enclosed yard or on leash or otherwise under control by leash or in automobile fully in charge of a person over 15 years of age. Any person is subject to arrest if he does not comply with these regulations.

2—Notify the nearest health officer or private veterinarian if your dog shows any change of disposition when accompanied by a hoarse bark and irritability.

3—Anyone bitten by a dog or cat should go at once to his physician or the nearest health officer and have the wound cauterized.

Dr. Pomeroy again issued orders to the County Humane Officers that the owners of all dogs picked up by pound wagons must be cited into court for quarantine violation.

Heretofore, the only punishment was the payment of a pound fee by the owner when a dog had been picked up and only in case of unlicensed dogs. The present quarantine order applies to both licensed and unlicensed dogs. The owner can still reclaim his dog by payment of the usual pound fee but will be cited into court and required to pay whatever the court orders for the violation of the quarantine, which is a misdemeanor.

Police records show the last rabies case here occurred 16 years ago. George Cox was chief of police at the time. A dog owned by one Palmer residing in Grand View avenue was bitten by a coyote afflicted with rabies. Several days later the dog ran wild, biting 13 other dogs before its misery was ended by Cox. All of the dogs bitten were shot and the scare ended.

Counting Drain Of Storm Damage On City's Purse

Interest was added to Wednesday night's meeting of the city council by the appearance of the new councilmen-elect who will be sworn in next Monday and a number of their most ardent supporters. Chairs had been arranged for an audience of capacity proportions. The new members and Councilman Miller held an impromptu reception in the hall, just outside the council chamber, greeting and receiving the congratulations of those who had come to hear the proceedings, many expecting the new members would be sworn in.

The council has now constituted decided not to transact any business other than that actually required and confined the session to approval of payrolls and bills that had accumulated since the last regular meeting.

The bills aggregated $9,612, of which more than $3,000 was for the payment of wages and other obligations incurred by reason of the early March storm. Exactly what the storm cost has not yet been determined. It is estimated at about $10,000, exclusive of labor furnished by the W.P.A.

The council also transferred $7,040 from the sinking fund and interest account to the water revenue fund. It was explained that the money was borrowed from the water account last fall when the sinking fund obligations arose before the city began to receive December tax collections from the county.

pire. After that date it will be necessary for property owners to pay all delinquent taxes in full with interest and costs without any of the exemptions which have distinguished the ten-payment option during recent years.

"It is desirable, therefore, that taxpayers desiring to use the present redemption law should endeavor to do so at an early date," states Mr. Byram.

The second installment of taxes will become delinquent April 20. If they are not paid by that time a three percent penalty is added, plus a 50c advertising charge per parcel.

On April 6, 1938, the governor signed Senate Bill No. 2, relating to the redemption and adoption of the 10-payment plan on property which has been sold to the State for delinquent taxes. The major effect of this bill was simply to extend the privilege from April 20 to August 20. The bill has no application whatever to the payment of current taxes which will be delinquent on April 20 and on which a 3 percent penalty and 50c cost will thereafter apply.

Tax collector Byram points out, starting July 1, an additional penalty of 1 per cent on the first of each month will attach. The bill applies only to the redemption of delinquent taxes for previous years and extends the present in-lieu method of paying these delinquencies. Tax-payers who are now paying delinquency on the 10-payment plan and who have not yet made the payment required this year, must do so by April 20 to keep the plan in effect.

Rate Boost Allowed P.E. Means 38-Cent Fare To Los Angeles

Rate increases allowed the Pacific Electric Co. by the State Railroad Commission this week mean a six-cent fare within the city limits instead of five. The trip fare to Los Angeles will be 38 instead of 35 cents and for a round-trip ticket 71 instead of 65 cents. The company is allowed a general 10 per cent increase in interurban business. It has not announced its new fare schedule or how monthly tickets and passes will be affected. No date has been announced for inauguration of the new rates.

The Commission announced its action was in the nature of a stop gap since because of wage increases, new and increased taxes and general increases in operating costs, the company was carrying on with an operating loss that threatened suspension of service.

Thirty cities, including Sierra Madre, opposed the company's request for higher fares. The present temporary arrangement will remain in effect until late in the Fall, at least. The Railroad Commission will resume hearings on the permanent application in August.

City Trying Out Two New Sorts Of Street Lights

Sierra Madre is trying out new type street lights intended to brighten up the town and afford greater safety for car drivers.

One of the experiments is the sodium vapor type located at Michillinda and West Sierra Madre Blvds., and the other is the new center suspension type installed at Lima street and West Sierra Madre Blvd. They were recently installed as an experiment by the Edison Co. at the city council's request.

The sodium vapor lights throw out an amber glow that it is claimed, penetrates heavy fog, mist and rain and is visible for a much greater distance, giving a higher factor of safety to motorists and pedestrians.

The new 250 candle-power center suspension lights use a diffused white bowl that throws the lights evenly around the street instead of in brilliant patches directly underneath, leaving the outer edges in blackness as does the old goose-neck side type of fixture now in use.

Third Troop Of Boy Scouts May Soon Be Organized

William A. Kinney has been named new director of outdoor activities and camping for Boy Scouts of Sierra Madre. At the local community council meeting Chairman John T. Smurda announced the appointment of Mr. Kinney who resides at 171 South Baldwin avenue.

Tallman H. Trask, executive of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley Council, of which Sierra Madre is a part, was present and announced that this council has just passed its nineteenth birthday and that there are 129 troops in the council with 3122 registered scouts.

Mr. Trask requested that any Eagle Scout residing in Sierra Madre register with the secretary, M. L. Bowman at 12 North Baldwin avenue. He said that a third troop will probably soon be formed here due to the increased interest in Scouting.

Dr. John L. Woehler spoke of the interest of the Kiwanis Club in Scouting, adding that in all probability the Kiwanians would lead the campaign to raise the quota of $260 for support of the local troops because the club believe Scouting furnishes the best training for character building in existence and he believed the community as a whole should be anxious to help support the Scout movement both morally and financially.

NO SMOKING

Only GAS ranges bring you smokeless broiling

Even the most modest meal can taste like a feast when it centers around a good broiled dish. Broiling brings out the most delicate flavors in foods. And with the new gas ranges, you pay no penalty in smoke. The reason is that a special receiving tray drains off melted fat; and any spattering is completely consumed in the flame. Gas alone among practical cooking methods offers this clean, smokeless broiling. Examine the new ranges today. Ask about the convenient terms.

Many people are of the opinion that the word signs reading "Drive slow" are grammatically incorrect, and that they should read "Drive slowly." However, either one of these is correct, as "slow" is both an adverb and an adjective.

A. L. A. Activities

By Maybelle Caley Barker

OUR Hospital Committee remembered the shut-ins among the Disabled Veterans of this city with baskets of pantries for Easter.

At our meeting Thursday night Membership Chairman Leila Embree reported that Our Unit acquired its quota at the required date and has gone over the top in membership. Community service in 100 hours and $5.00 was reported by Chairman Helen Lovejoy.

Mrs. Lucille Pickett and Mrs. Lovejoy attended the Potluck luncheon on Monday held by the past presidents association at San Dimas. Plans were made for a "Mile of Pennies" drive, the proceeds to go toward the ex-service woman's organization.

When National President Mrs. Malcolm Douglas visited California last week, she emphasized the fact that the great responsibility for good citizenship and the preservation of democracy has its beginning in the home.

Leila Embree was hostess at the Thursday night meeting.
